Financial Statements

December 31, 2013 and 2012

Independent Auditors' ReportTo the Board of Directors
Arcus Foundation

We have audited the accompanying financial statements of Arcus Foundation (the "Foundation"), which comprise the statements of financial position as of December 31, 2013 and 2012, and the related statements of activities and cash flows for the years then ended, and the related notes to the financial statements.

Management's Responsibility for the Financial Statements

Management is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of these financial statements in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America; this includes the design, implementation, and maintenance of internal control relevant to the preparation and fair presentation of financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

Auditors' Responsibility

Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audits. We conducted our audits in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audits to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free from material misstatement.

An audit involves performing procedures to obtain audit evidence about the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. The procedures selected depend on the auditors' judgment, including the assessment of the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error. In making those risk assessments, the auditor considers internal control relevant to the entity's preparation and fair presentation of the financial statements in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the entity's internal control. Accordingly, we express no such opinion. An audit also includes evaluating the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of significant accounting estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall presentation of the financial statements.

We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our audit opinion.

Opinion

In our opinion, the financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of Arcus Foundation as of December 31, 2013 and 2012, and the changes in its net assets and its cash flows for the years then ended in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

Notes to Financial Statements
December 31, 2013 and 2012

1. Organization

The Arcus Foundation, (the “Foundation”) formed in 1997 as the Jon L. Stryker Foundation and renamed in 2000, is dedicated to the idea that people can live in harmony with one another and the natural world. The mission is driven by the vision of our founder and by our shared commitment to emergent global human rights and conservation movements. The Foundation has offices in Kalamazoo, Michigan, Cambridge, United Kingdom and New York City, New York.

2. Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

Basis of Presentation and Use of Estimates

The accompanying financial statements have been prepared in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America (“U.S. GAAP”), which requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the reporting period. Accordingly actual results could differ from those estimates.

Cash and Cash Equivalents

Cash and cash equivalents consist of checking and money market accounts. The Foundation considers all highly liquid debt instruments available for current use with a maturity date of three months or less at the date of purchase to be cash equivalents.

Property, Equipment and Leasehold Improvements

Property, equipment and leasehold improvements are carried at cost or appraised value at date of donation. Depreciation is computed using the straight-line method over the estimated useful life of the assets. Leasehold improvements are recorded at cost and amortized over the terms of the office lease. The Foundation capitalizes all purchases of property and equipment greater than or equal to $1,000.

Fair Value Measurements

The Foundation follows U.S. GAAP guidance on Fair Value Measurements which defines fair value and establishes a fair value hierarchy organized into three levels based upon the input assumptions used in pricing assets. Level 1 inputs have the highest reliability and are related to assets with unadjusted quoted prices in active markets. Level 2 inputs relate to assets with other than quoted prices in active markets which may include quoted prices for similar assets or liabilities or other inputs which can be corroborated by observable market data. Level 3 inputs are unobservable inputs and are used to the extent that observable inputs do not exist.

In certain cases, the inputs used to measure fair value may fall into different levels of the fair value hierarchy. In such cases, an investment’s level within the fair value hierarchy is based on the lowest level of input that is significant to the fair value measurement.

2. Summary of Significant Accounting Policies (continued)

Investments

Investments other than cash and cash equivalents are carried at fair value. The fair value of alternative investments has been estimated using the Net Asset Value (“NAV”) as reported by the management of the respective alternative investment fund. U.S. GAAP guidance provides for the use of NAV as a “Practical Expedient” for estimating fair value of alternative investments. NAV reported by each alternative investment fund is used as a practical expedient to estimate the fair value of the Foundation’s interest therein and their classification within Level 2 or 3 is based on the Foundation’s ability to redeem its interest in the near term.

Investment Income Recognition

Purchases and sales of securities are recorded on a trade-date basis. Interest income is recorded on the accrual basis and dividends are recorded on the ex-dividend date. Realized gains and losses on the sale of investments are computed on the specific identification basis. Realized and unrealized gains and losses are included in the determination of the change in net assets.

Grants

The liability for grants and project appropriations payable is recognized when specific grants are authorized by the Board of Directors and the recipients have been notified.

Presentation of Net Assets

The Foundation reports information regarding its financial position and activities according to three classes of net assets: unrestricted net assets, temporarily restricted net assets, and permanently restricted net assets based on the presence or absence of donor imposed restrictions.

Contributions

Contributions are reported as an increase in unrestricted net assets unless their use is limited by donor-imposed restrictions.

Accounting for Uncertainty in Income Taxes

The Foundation recognizes the effect of tax positions when they are more likely than not to be sustained. Management is not aware of any violations of its tax status as an organization exempt from income tax, nor of any exposure to unrelated business income tax that would require disclosure and/or recognition. The Foundation is no longer subject to examinations by the applicable taxing jurisdictions for periods prior to 2010.

2. Summary of Significant Accounting Policies (continued)

Subsequent Events Evaluation by Management

Management has evaluated subsequent events for disclosure and/or recognition in the financial statements through the date that the financial statements were available to be issued, which date is September 4, 2014.

3. Concentration of Credit Risk

The Foundation's cash, cash equivalents and investments are potentially exposed to concentrations of credit risk. The Foundation invests its cash and cash equivalents with quality financial institutions and throughout the year balances in such investments may exceed the Federal insured limits. The Foundation invests in common stocks, fixed income securities, index funds, and limited partnerships. The Foundation routinely assesses the diversification and financial strength of its cash and investment portfolio.

	Tax Cost	Book Cost	Fair Value
413,956 Shares	$ 5,931	$ 22,146,646	$ 22,693,068

Tax cost represents the donor's basis. Book cost represents the fair value of the donated stock at the time of donation.

In addition to the shares of Stryker stock, the Foundation is also invested in several hedge fund-of-fund structures. Each fund-of-fund invests in a number of underlying hedge fund managers. Four of the hedge funds represented 18%, 13%, 12% and 12%, respectively, of the Foundation's total investment portfolio at December 31, 2013, and three hedge funds represented 18%, 11% and 11%, respectively, at December 31, 2012.

- a. This is a private equity fund that invests primarily in private equity investment partnerships. The Fund makes commitments to a number of investment managers who are expected to bring business operating skills, information advantages, and at times a contrarian approach to add value at the company level through private direct ownership. Investments made directly or indirectly by the fund will generally be, by nature, illiquid and not publicly traded. The Fund is expected to consist of U.S. and international private equity funds covering a range of private equity strategies. These strategies may include, among other things, buyouts, venture capital, growth capital, investments in securities of distressed companies, or investments in companies operating within particular industries. The Fund expects to primarily make investments in investment funds, but may also make direct and secondary investments. The fair value of this investment has been estimated using the net asset value of the Foundation's ownership interest in partners' capital. This investment can never be redeemed with the fund. Instead, the nature of the investment is that distributions are received through liquidation of the underlying assets of the fund.
- b. The diversified strategy portfolio allocates capital to a number of investment managers who deploy their capital with flexibility across all the major markets of the world including public equity, fixed income, credit, foreign exchange, commodities, and may, from time to time, also make privately-negotiated equity and debt investments. The compositions of the portfolios relative to actual underlying asset classes are likely to evolve over time based on the opportunity set in the world's markets, and also vary based on the core competencies of each underlying manager's team. Preservation of capital is typically a focus and hedging techniques are usually employed. While the portfolio will be primarily composed of investments in fund Investments, the portfolio's investments are also employed in the portfolio's management, including cash, publicly-traded stocks and bonds, exchange-traded funds, and exchange-traded and over-the-counter derivative contracts, or other privately-negotiated investments and secondary investments made by acquiring interests in pooled investment vehicles from shareholders who are seeking liquidity.
- c. The hedged equity portfolio allocates capital to a number of investment managers who approach the world's equity markets with the intention of generating positive total returns over a market cycle, while also attempting to preserve capital during adverse market conditions. The underlying managers typically employ hedging techniques at the single stock level, at the sector level, and sometimes at the broad market level. Underlying managers bring an expertise to the investment process typically based on strong research skills and/or on quantitative and technical insights. The focus is on recognizing areas of value in the global equity markets, uncovering securities that may be mispriced, and identifying special situations where value is driven more by specific events and less by the ups and downs of general market movements.

Arcus Foundation

Notes to Financial Statements

4. Investments (continued)

- d. The strategic fixed income portfolio allocates capital to a number of investment managers who approach the world's fixed income, foreign exchange, and credit markets with strong research skills and/or quantitative and technical insights. The focus in the fixed income and foreign exchange markets tends to center on identifying mispricings in securities and interest rate curves around the world. In the credit markets, the focus tends to be on preserving capital through buying at low valuations and also through securing protection for investors by being high in the capital structure and/or by being collateralized to physical and/or financial assets of a corporate balance sheet.
- e. The select equity portfolio allocates capital to a number of investment managers who apply their unique insights and talents to the world's public equity markets. Each Underlying manager will typically have an area of focus or expertise which maybe be sector-based, regionally-based, or style-based. The Underlying managers' portfolios tend to be more highly concentrated than index-based portfolios as the underlying managers tend to hold bigger positions in a smaller number of underlying equity shares. The underlying managers' portfolios tend to be invested with a longer time horizon, typically one to three years, and with less attention to monthly and quarterly ups and downs of the market. The underlying managers' portfolios are predominantly long-biased, with little if any hedging employed.

Alternative investments consist of non-traditional, not readily marketable investments, some of which may be structured as offshore limited partnerships, venture capital funds, hedge funds, private equity funds and common trust funds. The underlying investments of such funds, whether invested in stock or other securities, are generally not currently traded in a public market and typically are subject to restrictions on resale. Values determined by investment managers and general partners of underlying securities that are thinly traded or not traded in an active market may be based on historical cost, appraisals, a review of the investees' financial results, financial condition and prospects, together with comparisons to similar companies for which quoted market prices are available or other estimates that require varying degrees of judgment.

Because of the inherent uncertainty of valuations, the estimated fair values may differ significantly from the values that would have been used had a ready market for such investments existed or had such investments been liquidated, and those differences could be material.

5. Federal Excise Tax

The Foundation is exempt from Federal income taxes under Section 501(c)(3) and 509(a) of the Internal Revenue Code and has been further classified as a "private foundation." The Foundation is subject to an excise tax on its net investment income.

Excise taxes consist of two components: current taxes based upon net investment income and deferred taxes which arise from the difference between the tax cost of the investments held at year end and their fair market value.

6. Program Related Investment (PRI)

In accordance with a loan agreement dated May 20, 2009, the Foundation loaned $350,000 to OI Pejeta Ranching Limited. OI Pejeta Ranching Limited used the proceeds to repay a bank loan which was used for charitable expenditures. The note had an interest rate of 4% per annum, compounded monthly, for a term of seven years.

In accordance with the amended loan agreement dated August 24, 2012, under the new terms, the note will bear an interest rate of 2% per annum, compounded monthly, for a term of five years and three months.

PRIs, defined in IRC 4944(c), have a primary purpose of advancing the mission of the Foundation without a significant purpose of the production of income or the appreciation of property. PRIs are treated as charitable distributions on Internal Revenue Service form 990-PF, the tax and information return filed by private foundations for minimum-distribution requirement purposes.

7. Property, Equipment and Leasehold Improvements

As of December 31, property and equipment consisted of the following:

	2013	2012
Land	$ -	$ 290,000
Building and improvements	-	2,606,066
Leasehold Improvements	1,428,467	1,271,407

Less: accumulated depreciation	1,243,644	1,679,698
	$ 1,665,198	$ 3,873,027

In 2013, the Foundation made a grant of property commonly known as the Arcus Depot Building with a fair market value of $2,300,000 and a net book value of $2,194,271, to Kalamazoo Community Foundation Real Estate Holdings, Inc. In addition, the Foundation removed from its books and records equipment, furniture and fixtures with a cost basis of $373,593 and accumulated depreciation of $252,004.
